3rd

The first opportunity was the first opportunity.

It is my intention to return to New South Wales at the first opportunity.

The day of farewell is now in my thoughts.

I have been working with great energy.

I am determined to do what is necessary.

I will work hard to reach my goal.

I am prepared to face any challenge.

I am determined to succeed.

I am confident in my abilities.

I will not give up until I have achieved my goal.

April, 1913.

On the subject of education.

I have given much thought to this matter.

I have decided to address the following:

Education must be based on the principles of freedom and equality.

Education must be accessible to all.

Education must be provided for all.

Education must be free for all.

Education must be the right of all.

Education must be a fundamental right.

Education must be a basic requirement for all.

Education must be a necessity for all.

Education must be a basic requirement for the development of society.

Education must be a basic requirement for the advancement of mankind.

Education must be a basic requirement for the progress of society.

Education must be a basic requirement for the development of individuals.

Education must be a basic requirement for the advancement of individuals.

Education must be a basic requirement for the development of the human spirit.

Education must be a basic requirement for the development of the human mind.

Education must be a basic requirement for the development of the human heart.

Education must be a basic requirement for the development of the human soul.

Education must be a basic requirement for the development of the human character.

Education must be a basic requirement for the development of the human personality.

Education must be a basic requirement for the development of the human intellect.

Education must be a basic requirement for the development of the human understanding.

Education must be a basic requirement for the development of the human wisdom.

Education must be a basic requirement for the development of the human knowledge.

Education must be a basic requirement for the development of the human virtue.

Education must be a basic requirement for the development of the human moral.

Education must be a basic requirement for the development of the human excellence.

Education must be a basic requirement for the development of the human glory.

Education must be a basic requirement for the development of the human honor.

Education must be a basic requirement for the development of the human dignity.

Education must be a basic requirement for the development of the human respect.

Education must be a basic requirement for the development of the human esteem.

Education must be a basic requirement for the development of the human value.

Education must be a basic requirement for the development of the human worth.

Education must be a basic requirement for the development of the human status.

Education must be a basic requirement for the development of the human prestige.

Education must be a basic requirement for the development of the human glory.

Education must be a basic requirement for the development of the human honor.

Education must be a basic requirement for the development of the human dignity.

Education must be a basic requirement for the development of the human respect.

Education must be a basic requirement for the development of the human esteem.

Education must be a basic requirement for the development of the human value.

Education must be a basic requirement for the development of the human worth.

Education must be a basic requirement for the development of the human status.

Education must be a basic requirement for the development of the human prestige.

Education must be a basic requirement for the development of the human glory.

Education must be a basic requirement for the development of the human honor.

Education must be a basic requirement for the development of the human dignity.

Education must be a basic requirement for the development of the human respect.

Education must be a basic requirement for the development of the human esteem.

Education must be a basic requirement for the development of the human value.

Education must be a basic requirement for the development of the human worth.

Education must be a basic requirement for the development of the human status.

Education must be a basic requirement for the development of the human prestige.

Education must be a basic requirement for the development of the human glory.

Education must be a basic requirement for the development of the human honor.

Education must be a basic requirement for the development of the human dignity.

Education must be a basic requirement for the development of the human respect.

Education must be a basic requirement for the development of the human esteem.

Education must be a basic requirement for the development of the human value.

Education must be a basic requirement for the development of the human worth.

Education must be a basic requirement for the development of the human status.

Education must be a basic requirement for the development of the human prestige.

Education must be a basic requirement for the development of the human glory.

Education must be a basic requirement for the development of the human honor.

Education must be a basic requirement for the development of the human dignity.

Education must be a basic requirement for the development of the human respect.

Education must be a basic requirement for the development of the human esteem.

Education must be a basic requirement for the development of the human value.

Education must be a basic requirement for the development of the human worth.

Education must be a basic requirement for the development of the human status.

Education must be a basic requirement for the development of the human prestige.

Education must be a basic requirement for the development of the human glory.

Education must be a basic requirement for the development of the human honor.

Education must be a basic requirement for the development of the human dignity.

Education must be a basic requirement for the development of the human respect.

Education must be a basic requirement for the development of the human esteem.

Education must be a basic requirement for the development of the human value.

Education must be a basic requirement for the development of the human worth.

Education must be a basic requirement for the development of the human status.

Education must be a basic requirement for the development of the human prestige.

Education must be a basic requirement for the development of the human glory.

Education must be a basic requirement for the development of the human honor.

Education must be a basic requirement for the development of the human dignity.

Education must be a basic requirement for the development of the human respect.

Education must be a basic requirement for the development of the human esteem.

Education must be a basic requirement for the development of the human value.

Education must be a basic requirement for the development of the human worth.

Education must be a basic requirement for the development of the human status.

Education must be a basic requirement for the development of the human prestige.

Education must be a basic requirement for the development of the human glory.

Education must be a basic requirement for the development of the human honor.

Education must be a basic requirement for the development of the human dignity.

Education must be a basic requirement for the development of the human respect.

Education must be a basic requirement for the development of the human esteem.

Education must be a basic requirement for the development of the human value.

Education must be a basic requirement for the development of the human worth.

Education must be a basic requirement for the development of the human status.

Education must be a basic requirement for the development of the human prestige.

Education must be a basic requirement for the development of the human glory.

Education must be a basic requirement for the development of the human honor.