About the Victoria Cross for New Zealand

The Victoria Cross for New Zealand was instituted in 1999 to replace the British Victoria Cross for future awards to New Zealand military personnel.

The medal and ribbon for the Victoria Cross for New Zealand is identical to the British Victoria Cross instituted in 1856.

The Victoria Cross for New Zealand is the premier New Zealand award for gallantry. It is awarded for 'most conspicuous gallantry, or some daring or pre-eminent act of valour, self-sacrifice or extreme devotion to duty in the presence of the enemy or of belligerents'. There are three other awards for gallantry in the New Zealand honours system: the New Zealand Gallantry Star, the New Zealand Gallantry Decoration, and the New Zealand Gallantry Medal.

The Victoria Cross for New Zealand is a bronze cross paty or formy (with straight edges). In the centre of the cross is the Royal Crest above a scroll inscribed with the words "For Valour". The cross is attached by the letter "Y" to a straight bronze suspender bar bearing laurel leaves.
total of 21 (British) Victoria Crosses and one Bar have been awarded to New Zealanders.

The first, and to date, only award of the Victoria Cross for New Zealand was made to Corporal Bill (Willie) plata, NZSAS <http://news.archive2007.html#ve>, on 2 July 2007.

Recipients of either the British Victoria Cross or the Victoria Cross for New Zealand are entitled to use the postnominal letters V.C. after their names.

Information on the Victoria Cross Guns <http://www.firepower.org.uk/victoria_cross_guns.php>, the guns from which over 800 Victoria Crosses have been made since ca. 1914, can be found on the website of the Royal Artillery Museum <http://www.firepower.org.uk/index.php>, which is located at the Royal Arsenal, Woolwich, South East London, United Kingdom.

About the ribbon
